MESSAGE FROM: Fred Baron
MESSAGE TO: Andrew Young

“Andrew, it’s Fred. Uh, I just had a conversation and I want to pass it on to you. Uh, we are now all convinced that our cell phones are being monitored and, uh, we have evidence of it and so the communication between you and our friends, uh, is being, uh, hit by the other side and that’s the reason why there hasn’t been any, uh, uh, discussion between the two of you. And so, uh, we just wanna alert you to that. We have now decided that we are not gonna use cell phones for a while. Uh, I needed to pass on to you that the meeting went very well, that there’s nothing of any urgency that you need to be concerned about and that, uh, the way that it’s gonna have to be communicated to you is either in person or some other way. But, uh, cell phone communication is now over for those of us who (laughter) are working on this project and, uh, that’s been the issue. I, I wasn’t aware of that, but, uh, they’ve now confirmed that. So if you wanna call me at home, my home phone number is 214-265, I’m sorry, 2-1, 214-750-1700 is my number at home. Hard lines apparently can’t be, uh, tapped quite as easily as the cell phones. Take care.”
